The National Stuttering Association is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. Since 1977, we have dedicated ourselves to bringing hope and empowerment to children and adults who stutter, their families, and professionals through support, education, advocacy, and research.
INFORMATION FOR EDUCATORS
Give teachers the information they need to help children who stutter in their classrooms. Most teachers want to help, but they just don’t know how, and they are often “out of the loop” when it comes to information and support regarding stuttering. The NSA’s easy-to-read brochure provides teachers with ideas about how to handle tough situations that arise in the classroom.

NOTES TO LISTENERS
Listeners may not know the best ways to respond to people who stutter, but the NSA is here to help! This brochure provides information about stuttering and suggestions about what to say and do when talking with people who stutter—a great resource for anyone who has contact with the child, including coaches, bus drivers, extended family members, and others.

CLASSROOM PRESENTATION GUIDE
Help your students decrease teasing and overcome the fear of speaking in class by educating peers on the disorder of stuttering. With your help, children who stutter can advocate for themselves, educate others, and take charge of their environment. This guide provides an overview of how to prepare a classroom presentation, including sample outlines and suggestions to increase class participation.

NSA KIDS & TEENS CHAPTERS
The NSA operates nearly 200 local support chapters throughout the United States, including chapters specifically for kids and teens who stutter – and their parents! NSA Kids (ages 7-12, parents, and SLPs) and Teens (ages 13-17, parents, and SLPs) are chapters designed to meet the needs of these groups. Contact our National Office or visit our website to find a chapter in your area or to find out how to start a chapter in your home town!

PARENT SUPPORT CHAIN
Connect your families with people they can trust. Because the NSA is the largest support group in the world for people who stutter, we have a large network of parents who understand what it’s like to have a child who stutters. Connect your families with others who have faced the challenges of being the parent of a child who stutters. Personal support and understanding are just a phone call or email away!

ONLINE SUPPORT GROUPS
The NSA can provide you with support without ever leaving your computer. Find support through the NSA’s various online support communities. Connect with real people through the latest technology and interactive resources, such as email blasts, Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, video chat applications, and more.

Kids, teens, and parents can connect with people who really understand what they’re going through. Help the students and families that you work with get connected with one another by providing them with information about our useful resources.

This and much more is available to you through the NSA! Together, we can change the lives of people who stutter.
